

Troublesome Trucks

JAMES did not see the Fat Controller for several days. They left James alone in the shed, and did not even allow him to go out and push coaches and trucks in the yard.

“Oh, dear!” he thought sadly, “I’ll never be allowed out any more; I shall have to stay in this shed for always, and no one will ever see my red coat again. Oh, dear! Oh, dear!” James began to cry.

32

